TALKS TO END COAL STRIKES PROVE FUTILE

STOPPAGES SLICE 7,597,311 TONS OFF OUTPUT

BY HAROLD W. WARD

Washington, Oct. 10 (AP)—Talks seeking to end the spreading soft coal strike were extended another day after a futile session tonight between operators and union chief John L. Lewis.

Secretary of Labor Schwelienbach emerged from the conference and said "they are about in the same position as last night." He had asserted last night and again today that the parties were not far apart in their dispute over recognition of the Lewis mine foremen's union, and that agreement in strike settlement was within reach.

The secretary said that this fourth day of conferences under his direct guidance was devoted to negotiations. They will continue at 11 a. m. tomorrow.

Over 187,000 Idle

Lewis had offered to call off the strikes involving 187,000 workers if the operators would agree to negotiate on the question of unionization of the supervisory employees. The operators sought to impose conditions to their acceptance which they said would protect their present opposition to bringing the foremen into the Lewis union.

They contend that foremen and other supervisory employees are a part of management.

Another 82 mines were shut down as the fourth day of conferences between Lewis' United Mine Workers and the Bituminous Coal Operators, called by Schwelienbach, drew to a close.

The total number of mines idle rose to 831, the solid fuels administration reported. They normally produce 1,015,751 tons a day. The strikes, over recognition of Lewis' foremen's union, now involve 182,757 miners. Lost production of bituminous coal since the first foremen walked out September 21 has soared to 7,597,311 tons.

Lewis submitted a proposal to the Operators, endorsed at once by Schwelienbach, to call off the strikes and provide for negotiation of the controversial issues of unionization of some 28,000 to 50,000 mine foremen and supervisory employees.

In the meantime, the National Labor Relations Board has a test case before it involving "captive" mines of the Jones and Laughlin Steel Company, Brownsville, Pa.

Detroit, Oct. 10 (AP)—The Ford Motor Co. announced another series of top personnel changes today.

Harold K. Turner, only recently named manager of the company's Dearborn branch, was shifted to the executive staff of the Lincoln and Mercury sales organization. J. C. Doyle, former manager of the St. Louis branch, was appointed acting manager of the Dearborn branch.

Ira B. Groves, manager at Kansas City, was named southwestern regional manager and headquarters for that region were transferred from Dallas to Kansas City. As southwestern manager, Groves succeeds Harry Mack, who resigned recently.

The Ford company also announced today that Clyde R. Patton, until recently director of automotive engineering at the Packard Motor Car Co. had been named consulting engineer.

House Speeds Up Tax-Cutting Bill

BY FRANCIS M. LEMAY

Washington, Oct. 10 (AP)—The house today arranged an unusual 10 a. m. session tomorrow to speed passage of the first postwar tax-cutting bill. As drawn, the measure would cut individual and business taxes by $5,300,000,000 in 1946.

The rules committee virtually banned any changes in the bill on the house floor by decreeing that no amendments could be considered unless offered by the ways and means committee.

The procedure blocks any move for outright repeal of the war-imposed excess profits tax on corporations. The bill cuts the effective rate of this tax from 85.5 per cent to 60 per cent.

The bill, in a $2,600,000,000 reduction of individual income burdens, excuses 12,000,000 low income persons paying any federal tax and stipulates that all other individuals shall have a 1946 cut of at least 10 per cent. It reduces corporate income levies and sets for next July 1 a sharp cut-back in excise taxes on such things as liquor, luggage, fur coats, jewelry and cosmetics.

The CIO and 14 other organizations, including the Farmers' Union, today launched a bitter attack on the legislation. In a letter addressed to each house member they said the bill would "grant huge windfalls to the most prosperous corporations," but permit "only meager relief to low- and middle-income groups" of individuals.

Public hearings were demanded by the organizations, and they urged substitution of the CIO's proposal which proposes outright repeal of the 3 per cent normal tax on individuals and increases in exemptions which would put much softer burdens on low and middle income groups.

Instead of repealing the normal tax the committee decided to apply the more liberal surtax exemptions to the normal tax and then cutback by four percentage graduated surtaxes.

ATOMIC ENERGY IS HOT POTATO

Solons Told New Power Will Give Airplanes Unlimited Range

Washington, Oct. 10 (AP)—Senators juggling the hottest scientific potato in history—atomic energy—heard today that the new power will give the airplane of the future a virtually unlimited range.

Reason: It won't be burdened with the heavy fuel loads carried by present day aircraft.

The prediction came from J. Carlton Ward, Jr., president of Fairchild Engine and Airplane Corporation, who told a senate committee that:

"The whole tactical concept of warfare will change for the nation that first solves the atomic source of power."

The house military committee began a series of secret missions on President Truman's request that congress set out a nine member commission to handle all domestic phases of atomic research and development.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) wanted to know whether it would be possible for industry to work on the development of an atomic engine without disclosing the secret of the atomic bomb.

Ward said there would have to be disclosure of how the bomb was detonated in connection with solving the problem of controlling atomic heat.

End Of Argentine Siege Imminent As Peron Is Replaced

BY RAFAEL ORDORICA

Buenos Aires, Oct. 10 (AP)—Gen. Eduardo AVALOS was named minister of war tonight replacing Col. Juan Peron, Argentina's "strong man," whose resignation AVALOS forced yesterday. It was reported the lifting of the nation-wide state of siege imposed by Peron was imminent.

Commodore Edmundo Sustaiza was appointed secretary of aeronautics replacing Brigadier Gen. Bartolome De La Colina, and Col. Aristobulo Mittelbach was made acting chief of police at Buenos Aires, succeeding Col. Folomero Valazco. The new appointees were reported to be friendly to Peron.

It was not disclosed officially whether the cabinet considered ending the siege, under which hundreds of government opponents have been arrested during the past two weeks, but observers believed it a likely step.

The siege was ordered by Peron September 26.

Great Lakes Fish Flown To Capital In Iceless Packs

Washington, Oct. 10 (AP)—A shipment of white fish caught in the Great Lakes Wednesday morning and flown from Detroit to Washington in iceless containers arrived here tonight in excellent condition, the Fish and Wildlife Service reported.

The fish was packed in Detroit in four different types of containers when the temperature was 40 degrees. Examined on arrival here the containers ranged in temperature from 42 to 46 degrees.

The experiment was the first of a series of test shipments of fresh fish by air. The fish were given to Senators Vandenberg and Ferguson, Michigan Republicans.

ANTI-MIKADO GROUP STAGES TOKYO PARADE

NIPPON WAR MONEY SECRETS PROBED BY U. S. SLEUTHS

BY RICHARD K. O'MALLEY

Tokyo, Thursday, Oct. 11 (AP)—Four Japanese industrialists, provoked by a banai parade before General MacArthur's headquarters of 600 Japanese Communists celebrating their new freedom of expression, warned today "Japanese Communists are waiting for the proper time to rise."

The parade of avowed anti-imperialists, organized by a Communist leader to celebrate release of political prisoners, was staged yesterday while American financial sleuths were probing into Nippon's war finance secrets.

Import Trade Curbed
The industrialists—representing coal, steel and small ship building—said efficiency of Japan's heavy industry during the war was reduced 50 per cent through strict government control.

A new Allied directive placed Japan's import business on a strict cash or commodity-exchange basis, confining imports to items necessary to maintain the minimum standard of living.

The cabinet of Premier Kijuro Shidehara, chosen only four days ago to take over the post, met for two hours today and scheduled another extraordinary session tomorrow for discussion of pending issues.

Backs Turned On Palace
The emperor's sacred position in traditional Japanese life was given a jolt by the paraders, who carried red banners and Korean independence flags. The paraders, numbering only about 600, turned their backs on the imperial palace—in direct affront to the custom of bowing to the edifice.

In a Communist meeting before the parade, Totsuzi Fuse, liberal-thinking attorney, criticized Japanese militarists and declared the overthrow of the emperor system was the only solution to Japan's problems.

American seizure yesterday of approximately $250,000,000 in Japanese precious metals was motivated by apparent Nipponese carelessness as well as a desire to uncover the nation's war funds, an informant said.

People Want Emperor
Seizure of additional gold, silver and precious stones found in army and navy buildings, however, was part of the Allied plan to dig out hidden Japanese resources.

Japanese are now free to criticize their imperial form of government, but the critics will not be supported by the people generally "because they want to retain the emperor," said Home Minister Kenjiro Horikiri.

The Tokyo newspaper Asahi reported today Education Minister Maeda plans a large-scale disclosure of Japanese school officials who still adhere to militaristic education.

Picketing Halted At Movie Studios With 450 Arrests

Hollywood, Oct. 10 (AP)—Mass picketing at Warner Brothers Movie Studio was halted today when 350 to 450 pickets submitted peacefully to arrest by 200 sheriff's deputies, but union leaders declared it would be resumed tomorrow morning with 20,000 workers from the Lockheed Aircraft plant.

There was a possibility, meanwhile, that counting of ballots would proceed tomorrow in a labor board election to determine whether the AFL Painters Union or the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees, also an AFL affiliate, shall represent studio set designers.

Representation of the 77 set designers was the issue over which the motion picture strike, since grown to include several thousand workers of various crafts, began last March 12.

Terms Of Germfask Objectors Upheld

Grand Rapids, Oct. 10 (AP)—The sixth United States circuit court of appeals Wednesday upheld convictions and 3 and a half-year prison terms for seven conscientious objectors charged with desertion from Camp Germfask.

The ruling dealt with a final group of 50 appeals by conscientious objectors in western Michigan, challenging authority of the government to draft conscientious objectors. Decisions made by Federal Judge Fred M. Raymond have been upheld in every case by higher courts.

Revised Wage-Price Policy Is Urged To Stem Labor Unrest

BY STERLING F. GREEN

Washington, Oct. 10 (AP)—Reconversion Director John W. Snyder was under increasing pressure today to declare a new government wage-price policy promptly, to stem the tide of labor unrest.

Two officials of the Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion who requested that their names not be published, said that economists and advisers in that agency are almost unanimous in the belief that action by Snyder or President Truman is imperative.

They hold that a wage increase of about 15 per cent, on the average, could be allowed with no appreciable inflationary effect on price levels.

They say, the return to high output of civilian goods would be slowed by more work stoppages, which might be avoided if the government took leadership in providing a wage-price pattern.

A government declaration would carry the assurance that employers could proceed to OPA's consideration of price increases to cover their wage costs up to the 15 per cent or other prescribed level. For wage increases beyond that point, there would be no assurance of price relief.

In the opinion of government economists, an average increase of 15 per cent would increase prices around 2 or 2½ per cent—a supposedly "safe" rise in living costs.

President Truman recently indicated he was not ready for a change in the existing hold-the-line program.

He told his news conference last week the government has a definite wage policy. He read the "V-J" wage order issued by him Aug. 18, which in general bars any wage increases which mean prices must be increased.

However, the order also says raises can be granted to correct "inequities" without explaining that would—even if price increases would result.

Harbor Strike Delays Troops
Longshoremen's Dispute Holds Up Men Waiting To Come Home

New York, Oct. 10 (AP)—The first of a fleet of Liberty ships left strike-paralyzed New York harbor for Europe today without cargo to pick up servicemen whose homecoming, a war shipping administrator declared, had been delayed by the city's ten day longshoremen's strike.

Two Liberties moved under clearance orders issued by Capt. Hewlett R. Bishop, WSA Atlantic coast director, who said the strike was delaying redeployment of "thousands of troops."

Bishop said ten additional cargo-carrying vessels and ten ships which do not carry cargo would leave within two days in ballast.

More than 350 ships now are held in the harbor by the walk-out.

An estimate 35,000 to 60,000 men left their jobs Oct. 1 protesting lift load weights. They seek standardized weightloads for cargo nets, overtime pay for lunch hours worked, two instead of three daily hiring periods and a relief man for every 20 workers.

Late this afternoon, Joseph Ryan, international president, said six locals had voted to return and six had voted to continue the strike.

Wife Enters Plea Of Innocence In Murder Of Nurse

San Francisco, Oct. 10 (AP)—Mrs. Annie Mansfield today pleaded innocent of a charge of murdering her doctor husband's nurse and was ordered held for trial, the date to be set later.

Mrs. Mansfield is charged with fatally shooting Mrs. Vada Martin, 33, a registered nurse who was suspected of a clandestine romance with Dr. John Mansfield. The physician committed suicide by poison after learning of the shooting.

Occupation Veterans To Be Relieved; 135,000 Prepare To Sail

Paris, Oct. 10 (AP)—U. S. Army headquarters announced today that 135,000 troops now stationed in the United States would start moving into the European theater this month, relieving occupation veterans with more than 44 points.

The announcement said the size of the occupation forces now was "tentatively set at 370,000, including 39,000 officers."

New York, Oct. 10 (AP)—Approximately 2,000 low point occupation army troops are being processed at Camp Shanks, N. Y., for overseas duty. They are the first Europe-bound troops prepared for European duty at that staging area since V-E Day, post officials said.

Wet Fields Delay Sugar Beet Harvest

Alma, Oct. 10 (AP)—A two-week delay in starting the sugar harvest has officials of the Michigan Sugar Company here and the Great Lakes Sugar Company, with a refinery at St. Louis, greatly worried.

They say fields are so boggy harvesting equipment cannot be used while Mexican field hands, disgusted with wet weather, are becoming restless.

Sugar weigh stations have been open for a week but the quantity of beets received has been negligible so far.

ALLIED BOARD PREPARES FOR ADVISORY JOB

MAC ARTHUR STATUS UNCHANGED AS TOKYO BOSS

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, Oct. 10 (AP)—Creation of an Allied commission to advise on Japanese control policies, was announced by Secretary of State Byrnes today, but he emphasized the United States intends to maintain its dominant role.

The status of Gen. Douglas MacArthur as supreme Allied commander in Japan is to remain unchanged, Byrnes said, and any time the victor nations fail to agree on policy, United States policy will prevail.

Russia has proposed setting up a control commission at Tokyo, Byrnes reported, and while this is yet to be taken up with President Truman and the army and navy, the secretary left no doubt that he favors rejecting the proposal.

Headquarters of the advisory commission are to be in Washington, with meetings in Tokyo when necessary. Invitations for the first session, here October 23, went out to nine other nations yesterday.

Will Investigate Balkans
Byrnes has appointed Maj. Gen. Frank R. McCoy, retired army officer and president of the Foreign Policy association, to be United States representative on the Far Eastern advisory commission.

He also has appointed Mark Ethridge, publisher of the Louisville Courier-Journal and Times, to investigate political conditions in the Russian-dominated Balkans as the next step in American consideration of whether to recognize the governments of Romania and Bulgaria.

The United States has not yet received an answer from Russia on its compromise proposal, growing out of the stalemated foreign ministers meeting at London, for a general European peace conference by the year end, Byrnes revealed.

Asked whether General MacArthur might come here to report to the commission late this month, Byrnes said he had no idea that MacArthur would be invited or, if invited, that he would come.

Firing Squad Ends Life Of Ruthless Traitor, Darnand

BY THOMAS F. HAWKINS
Paris, Oct. 10 (AP)—Ruthless Joseph Anne Darnand, the Vichy government's "Little Hitler," died before a firing squad today for plotting against France.

Honored as a hero in World War I but disgraced as a traitor in World War II, Darnand cried: "Vive la France! Farewell, my militiamen!"

He fell before a volley fired by 12 infantrymen of the Verdun regiment at Fort de Châtillon.

Darnand's attorneys lost a final appeal to General De Gaulle for his life and he was taken to the execution grounds at 9 a. m.

Darnand organized and commanded a terrorist militia of 115,000 which battled resistance elements and herded French workers into Germany for forced labor. He was convicted Oct. 3 by the same court and jury which yesterday condemned his collaborator boss, Pierre Laval.

CAN WE SOLVE THE BEAR PROBLEM?

The bears in northern Wisconsin are becoming a serious problem to the farmers who have been trying to add to their farm income by raising pigs, sheep and calves. Bears have killed several thousands of dollars worth of livestock and some farmers have quit raising sheep up there.

A reader of this column wrote me about two men who were attacked by bears and left for dead at Winter and Loretta. School children were afraid to wait for the school bus at the roadside.

The state is considering the problem by allowing the farmers to set bear traps. The warden is trying to help by setting traps in the bear-infested areas and have taken several bears, yet the bears seem on the increase.

I'm wondering if a special open season should not be allowed in those counties which are harassed by bears. There are hazards to a shooting season of this nature, for a dumbbeller hunter would be sure to shoot at any man who wore black or brown clothes.

Other hunters, too quick on the trigger, will shoot at anything which moves. We know that, in the deer season, men are killed every year by fools who shoot first and look afterwards, but the bear population in several counties should be cut down.

In many states, areas have been opened to shooting by lot. Everyone draws a number and the lucky hunters are allowed in the woods. This could be done in Wisconsin and no green hunter should be allowed to draw a number unless he hunted right alongside of an old timer.

Few of us ever kill a bear during the deer season. Ninety-five bears out of each 100 are dunned up by that time. If the season were opened when the leaves are on the trees, few bears would be killed but many hunters would be shot.

The season would have to be opened in the spring before the leaves were out. The spring season might be the best, for then our deer would be thin and not worth shooting by the cheater hunter who should lose all hunting privileges for three years, when caught shooting deer in the bear season.

It might be argued that the females would be with cubs but this should not apply. The problem is to get rid of the excess bears in those counties. The hunters will solve this, at no expense to the state or to the farmers, by ridding those counties of the man-killers and the livestock killers.

It would mean one season of experimenting and anyone who reads the thousands of dollars of bear damage each year, knows that Wisconsin is a long way from cutting down this heavy damage.

Meat is too precious, and is likely to be for several years, to allow the bears to take such a heavy toll each year. Trapping, alone, will never do it but combined with hunting the situation could be whipped.

When canning remember personal cleanliness is important. Clothing should be immaculate and hands and forearms should be washed thoroughly with soap and water before beginning preparation of food.

Postwar Home, Office Will Have Many Novel Things

By Science Service

Washington—A preview of some of the new things that will appear in the postwar home or office is contained in a packet of specimens assembled here.

Automobile seats will be softer, mattresses more restful and sofas springback into shape better when cushioned with a rubber honeycombed with minute interconnecting air cells. Greenhouses, barn windows and skylights made of a plastic and wire-screening will prove popular where glass breakage is a problem.

A plastic coffee measure, easily handled and with a narrow opening to minimize the possibility of heaping or getting too little coffee by scooping out too much when leveling off the coffee in the measure, may soon be standard kitchen equipment. A measure just developed holds the equivalent of two level measuring tablespoons of coffee.

A nut that will not work loose no matter how much the machine vibrates is kept in place by a plastic collar. It may find many new uses in the peacetime world.

Electric shavers are appearing on the market again, and for the benefit of those who want to see how a clipper works, a shaver head is included in the kit. These specimens were furnished by companies outstanding in their particular fields. The coffee measure was designed by the National Coffee Association, to measure the right amount for a cup of good coffee. The airfoam was created by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company. Monsanto Chemical Company developed the plastic and wire-screening in cooperation with the U. S. Navy. The nut with the red elastic collar is produced by the Elastic Stop Nut Company, while the small shearing head gives a good idea of how the Schick Electric Shaver works.

These specimens are contained in a kit prepared by Science Service. The Home and Office Unit of THINGS of science, containing specimens and museum labels for their display, as well as information on their development and a number of suggested experiments, can be secured by sending 50 cents to this paper's Science Service, 1719 N. St., N. W., Washington 6, D. C., and asking for unit No. 60.

"Bloody Bucket" Held Ardennes

By NEA Service

The 28th Infantry Division is the only American outfit whose nickname was given it by the Germans. The fury of its assaults on enemy positions led the Germans, who felt that "Keystone" was an inadequately savage description of the 28th's Red shoulder patch, to call the division the "Bloody Bucket" boys.

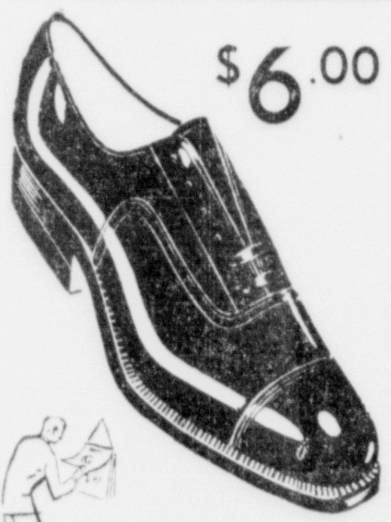

No other division absorbed more punishment during Von Rundstedt's mighty counter-offensive of last winter than did the 28th. At that time, with five months of fighting in France, Belgium, Luxembourg and Germany already behind it, the 28th was deployed along a 25-mile stretch of the Our River. On the first day of the offensive, five crack German divisions flung themselves over the Our, and within a few days the doughboys of the 28th were singlehandedly fighting no less than nine enemy divisions.

The "Bloody Buckets" hit the enemy the first time in July, 1944, shortly after landing in Normandy. After worming its way through the hedgerows, the division turned on full steam and rolled through France and, on Aug. 29, it entered Paris, a few days after the city's liberation.

In September, the 28th crossed the Meuse, scene of much of its fighting in the last war, went on over the Belgian border, and then fanned out into Luxembourg, traveling at the rate of 17 miles a day. In mid-September, it became the first outfit to enter Germany in strength. It cleaned up the Ruertgen Forest, and then took up positions along the Our. It was there that it was hit by the Ardennes offensive.

After rest and reorganization, the 28th went back to the fight early in 1945 and took the heavily defended city of Colmar. When the war ended, it was in Kaiserlautern.

Of approximately 100,000,000 pounds of feathers picked from chickens in a year, not more than one-fourth are used now by feather processing plants.

Upper Peninsula Has No Job Problem Now

Washington, (AP)—A survey of Michigan cities indicates that state has no serious reconversion or employment problems "if labor difficulties can be overcome." The committee for economic development reported today.

The CED, a business man's organization headed by Paul G. Hoffman of the Studebaker Corporation, included 25 Michigan cities in its survey of employment conditions.

The Northern Michigan picture, as reported by local CED chairmen and other business men:

Sault Ste. Marie

"No unemployment today in this community. Present day need is 250 workers."—George A. Osborn.

Escanaba

"Seems to be no unemployment. Within the next few weeks the woods industry will begin to operate for the winter season. We expect that the number of men returning from service will be ample to take care of our local needs."—William Warmington, vice president and cashier, State Bank of Escanaba; Carl J. Sawyer, president of Sawyer-Stoll Timber company; F. J. Earle, secretary of Delta Hardware company.

Luce County

No unemployment at present "but many workers are returning to Luce county from large manufacturing centers and we expect unemployment to some extent as soon as the workers return." One wartime plant (unnamed) "is apparently going out of business and we will then have a large number unemployed."—Thomas S. Worsham.

Manistique

"No unemployment problem. Wood operations can use approximately 250 woodworkers."—Fred H. Hahne, executive vice president, First National Bank.

Marquette

"Marquette has no reconversion problem. All who want jobs are employed and there is current demand for at least two hundred workers, mostly unskilled and semi-skilled."—J. J. Beckman, CED chairman.

Houghton

"Two hundred and fifty-five jobs now available in local forests and mines. Within year after return of veterans and after lifting of government premium, 2,400 jobs necessary to care for total work demand."—E. J. Townsend, executive secretary, copper company.

Ishpeming

"Ishpeming has no unemployment and expects none. Could use 200 male and 200 female employees immediately."—Carl Brewer, CED chairman.

Munising

"Our community needs 161 workers."—E. O. Erickson, CED chairman.

Business Italy Comes Out Of War Isolation

(AP) Newsfeatures

Rome — Working to resume commercial relations with the rest of the world, Italy has put away the Fascistic self-sufficiency policy which had kept her from getting essential raw materials.

An Italo-Swiss trade agreement has been signed on the basis of which Switzerland will supply Italy with machinery, tools, breeding stock, chemical products and watches while Italy will send Switzerland wines, vegetables, silk, sulphur, tobacco, seeds, textiles and marble.

The accord provides for an annual exchange of goods worth 360,000,000 Swiss francs. Switzerland, to help Italy get started, will also extend Italy a credit of 80,000,000 Swiss francs.

The Italian Government plans to send a delegation to Spain to clear Italian credits and make a new trade accord with a special view to exporting automobiles to Spain.

A trade delegation also is scheduled to go to Poland to discuss importing Polish coal. Italy is looking toward the South American market, too, where she would like to resume her traditional buying of meat, coffee and, to a lesser degree, wheat, in return for Italian textiles.

Some think the name Rome is derived from the word "rimon" meaning river, so that Rome would signify "city beside the river."

ORE SHIPMENTS SHOW DECREASE

Tonnage At Local Docks
700,000 Under 1944
Figures

Iron ore tonnage shipped over the Chicago and North Western docks at Escanaba to Oct. 1 totaled 3,723,090 tons, a decline of more than 700,000 tons for a similar period last year, the report of the Lake Superior Iron Ore Association revealed. Total tonnage shipped to Oct. 1, 1944, was 4,464,977 tons.

The tonnage shipped from the upper lakes thus far this season also is considerably under the shipments to Oct. 1 a year ago, 61,671,771 tons, a decrease of 4,231,413 for the same period a year ago.

The Cleveland-Cliffs company expects to complete its shipping requirements by mid-November. They have about 600,000 tons of ore yet to be shipped from the Marquette and Escanaba docks, including ore from both the Menominee and Marquette ranges. Some other shippers, however, expect to move ore cargoes as late as Dec. 1.

Indicative of the reduced activity in the movement of iron ore this year are the mine employment records in Iron county. Employment has dropped from 2,010 in 1944 to 1,634 in 1945, with virtually all mines showing a decrease in the number of hired hands.

The ore shipments on the upper lakes for the present season to Oct. 1 follow:

Resort Industry To Get Aid From State College

Michigan's tourist and recreation business is to receive the assistance and advice of Michigan State College, with particular attention to new operators in the state's second largest industry, according to information received yesterday by E. A. Wenner, county agricultural agent.

Peace time is expected to bring to the state its greatest influx of tourists next spring and summer. The tourist business is making every effort to prepare for this avalanche of travel, and there will be many persons new to the business who will be benefited by the aid and information Michigan State College's new program is equipped to supply.

Progress is being made in getting the program in operation, although work to date has been largely one of gathering information. A survey of some 150 tourist service businesses is nearing completion. Designs of typical and practical lodges, cabin camps, cottages and other types of resort structures are being assembled and will be made available within a few months. All of this work is progressing in cooperation with the Tourist and Resort Council, and the four tourist and resort associations in the state.

County Agent Wenner said yesterday that the agricultural agents in each county are to be the local representatives for this new service in each county. Any established or prospective operator can look to him for dependable information and help. The first of a series of instruction meetings for county agents will be held at Michigan State College early in November.

Preparations are being made for regional meetings and clinics in various parts of the state where operators may gather to discuss their problems.

Four types of business are to receive specialized help — overnight roadside tourist cabins, cottage rental groups, lodge and cottage resorts, and resort hotels.

Plans call for aid on such matters as financial policies, partnership relations, business practices, employer-employee relations, personnel training, site selection and development, landscaping, building plans, menus, interior decoration, water supply, waste disposal, sanitation, poisonous plant and insect control, and all types of sports. County and community planning committees will also be assisted in recreational development.

Gun Fight With German Bombers In 1943 Is Told

GM 3/c Robert Pelky, of Wells, recently was discharged from the Navy, where he served for more than three years. He was a member of the armed guard aboard the SS Esso Bayway, the SS Louisa M. Alcott and the SS Beward.

The Louisa Alcott participated in a pitched battle with 38 German torpedo planes and bombers on Aug. 13, 1943. An account of this battle, recently released for publication, follows:

"The enemy aircraft appeared to be everywhere, covering the entire convoy. Our ship was in the exact center of the convoy, which consisted of a total of seven columns.

"Within a matter of seconds we were surrounded by the Junkers 88 torpedo planes, and our guns were being fired in four directions with considerable effectiveness at the enemy. A British merchant vessel was hit by an aerial torpedo on her port side amidships. She was approximately 100 yards off our port bow. The plane was firing its machine guns in an effort to clear the decks of the British vessel and headed in the direction of our port bow with her guns directed at our ship. Bursts from our guns caused her to change course and veer away. The crew of the stricken vessel abandoned ship.

"Another torpedo plane swept between the third and fourth columns of the convoy and was met with effective gunfire from our No. 2 Oerlikon 20 mm AA gun. Several hits were registered and the plane hit the water, remaining afloat. The pilot began to machinegun the lifeboat containing the crew from the stricken British ship. The command was given to our gunners to finish the plane, which was only 75 to 100 yards off our port beam. The plane broke out in flames from our gunfire and sank.

"On August 14, we were advised by a British escort vessel that out of 37 planes attacking, the had lost 17." Pelky served as a pointer in the armed guard of the Esso Bayway six months, aboard the SS Louisa M. Alcott 16 months and aboard the SS Beward 5½ months before he was discharged.

An Age of Science

GEN. MARSHALL spoke words of wisdom when he warned the American people to prepare and maintain a strong national defense or face the prospects of national destruction.
In his biennial report, General Marshall forewarned of many new and terrifying weapons, diabolical scientific instruments, that makes the possibilities of any future war terrifying, indeed.
On at least one phase of Marshall's program of national preparedness, the American public is well united in support, that of intense scientific research and developments of electronics and rockets have established entirely new problems in national defense. We must not only keep pace with the rest of the world in scientific research and developments. The invention of the atomic bomb and the developments of electronics and rockets have established entirely new problems in national defense. We must not only keep pace with the rest of the world in scientific discoveries of weapons of destruction, but for the nation's safety, we must outdistance all foreign competitors.
This, of course, is the No. 1 challenge, far more important than Gen. Marshall's second proposal for a permanent peace-time citizen-army.
Maj. Gen. Leslie Groves, who headed the atomic bomb project, for instance, told a congressional committee that if Hitler had waited to develop an atomic bomb before starting his attack, the war would have been over in two or three days and the world capital would be in Berlin.
Assuming this to be true, and nobody can hardly deny it, the existence of large and well trained armies throughout Europe and America would have been a futile defense against this terrifying weapon.
That the United States will be forced to maintain a strong military force in the years ahead to guarantee its national defense undoubtedly is true. Whether this can best be accomplished by a year's military training for all young men, as Gen. Marshall proposes, is still conjecture. The developments of warfare in this scientific age move so rapidly that a young man's training rapidly becomes obsolete in the space of a relatively brief period of time.
This is a problem that the nation will have to settle and soon. In many ways it shapes up as one of the most important problem of the postwar period.

Treason Is Unpopular

CONVICTION of Pierre Laval, the swinish head of the Vichy government, on a charge of treason in connection with his collaboration with the enemy Nazis, gives added proof that traitorism is still unpopular in France.
Previously, Marshal Petain, despite his long-time popularity as the hero of World War I, was convicted of aiding the enemy, and others who thought more of their own privileges and fortunes than the welfare of their homeland also have been brought to the bar of justice.
Such developments give renewed hope that France, badly beaten in World War II because of intrigue and corruption in high places, will someday rise again to become a nation of power and integrity. France has a noble past, but apparently she also has a future, although she faces a difficult reconstruction job to heal the scars left by a devastating war.

Revolt in Argentina

COL. JUAN PERON, the "strong man" of Argentina, has been forced out of power in that holed of South American intrigue, but there is nothing in the current developments to offer any genuine hope that Argentina at last is to acquire a democratic government.
On the contrary, the latest developments in the bizarre Argentina political situation appears at long range to be merely a behind-the-scenes struggle by opposing factions of the military hierarchy for power.
One of the outstanding lessons learned from the war is that military government is harmful to the personal liberties of the peoples of any nation. That can lead only to government by force and rarely represents the will of the people.
The people of Argentina have protested for weeks against the dictatorial authority of military rule in their unhappy land. Whether their protests were instrumental in ousting Peron or whether other power-seekers within the army merely used the occasion to wrest authority for themselves will be determined shortly when the new pattern of Argentine government unfolds.
The return of personal liberties, particularly freedom of press, must develop in Argentina before the citizens of that country can hope to get their nation back on an even keel in the family of Pan-American nations.

Utilizing CCC Camps

THE Forest Service has announced that CCC Camp Round Lake near St. Ignace will be sold to the highest bidder, the same policy followed in the disposition of other property vacated with the abandonment of the Civilian Conservation Corps program.

The Milwaukee Journal, however, has a different slant on the use of idle CCC buildings. The Journal comments as follows:
"If, anywhere in Wisconsin, there are unused CCC camps they ought to be put to use as local facilities. If such camps are now the property of the state or the counties, there should be little difficulty about this. If any remain in the hands of the federal government they ought to be turned over to local governmental agencies—assuming that their use as federal facilities is ended.
"Most of the CCC camp buildings were temporary in nature and may need repairs before they can be made much use of. However, the buildings and their surroundings ought to remain much as they were. Youngsters ought to consider them to be shelter facilities during outdoor undertakings.
"Rather extensive facilities once were provided for some CCC camps. These facilities included a deal of plumbing, perhaps a costly well, perhaps reasonably substantial headquarters buildings. If any of these still remain, there is no reason why forest schools, or more or less permanent summer or even winter camps, should not be installed in them.
"There ought to be some surplus army goods now procurable for good public CCC camp equipment. The conservation poses, and these might be added to the department, the counties, and some schools might want to inquire into these matters."

FERGUSON SUGGESTS LAW (Iron Mountain News)

Senator Ferguson has his ideas about what Congress should do to secure the country against the vexation and losses caused by a plague of strikes. He would have a law setting up impartial boards that would try the issues arising between workers and employers. A strike would be, in effect, illegal while the fact finding was in progress.
Paul Leach, writing in the Detroit Free Press, says: "There would be a 'cooling off' period such as the Smith-Connally act provides for. But in that congealing, thinking it over interim there would be action to settle the differences instead of just sitting on, or ignoring, the law, as the case is now."
"Senator Ferguson puts his long judicial finger squarely upon the most irritating thing of all in this strike turmoil—that the public and even government frequently are ignorant of the real facts behind a strike." He quotes Senator Ferguson:
"The public is entitled to the facts, all the facts, when its rights are involved. It should know all that is behind a strike, all that is causing it. We cannot afford to be in a position where the government is unable to act if management and labor cannot get together. When that happens government is being destroyed. Establishment of impartial government hearing machinery before which the disputants would be required to present their full cases would strengthen collective bargaining rather than weaken it."
Leach concludes: "Ferguson did not go into the enforcement angle. But there is strong sentiment in Congress for enactment of legislation with teeth in it. Court punishment for those refusing to abide by the law would be virtually imperative if the government should enact such a law as Ferguson discusses. Seizure by the President of industries or mines is the present resort if both sides fail to agree on mediation. Theoretically mediation for settlement proceeds during government operation. Actually it seldom does."
Senator Ferguson is venturing on ticklish ground. Labor is opposed to legislation along the lines he suggests. But the public at large is doubtless more favorably disposed. It is heart sick of strikes, of the break down of mediation agencies and with the evidence that the government is impotent to take effective steps, without prejudice against management or workers, to serve the common welfare.

MOUNTAIN OF SUGAR (Grand Rapids Press)

Discovery of 1,600,000 tons of sugar in the ports of Java liberated from the Japanese and the hope of making similar finds elsewhere in The Netherlands East Indies is reported with glee by Secretary of Agriculture Anderson, who now hopes that rationing can be terminated sooner than expected. Allocation of this high energy food through a united nations pool also will help alleviate Europe's critical food shortage.
Much of the sugar held in Java as a result of the Japanese occupation would normally have gone to the Mediterranean and near eastern countries, which before the war were the principal markets for Japanese sugar. To meet the needs of the countries formerly supplied from the far east, the United States has been exporting refined sugar to southern Europe. There were vigorous protests in this country recently when it was disclosed that these shipments had included sizable allotments to Fascist Spain.
Similarly in the last war the cutting off of Japanese sugar from world markets also resulted in shortages in the United States. Because of the need of shipping space for other cargoes, sugar could not be imported from Java and it was up to this country to supply to the allies, Americans adopted rationing on a voluntary basis which depended on good will and the honor system rather than on stamps good for five pounds.

Take My Word For It

Frank Colby

WHAT'S THE ORIGIN?
Q. The term "ambulatory patients" disturbs me, for it suggests patients transported in an ambulance. Will you please discuss?
A. Let us begin with the Latin stem

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—When Robert Burns wrote his immortal lines about the gift of seeing ourselves as others see us, he was writing about individual men and women in their day to day relationships.
But if nations could be endowed with this same rare gift, it might help to avoid the kind of international ill will that leads to war.
To look at ourselves without the flattering distortion that results from national pride is perhaps impossible. We are too much a part of our time to view dispassionately our own role in that time.
The other day I lunched with a distinguished foreign journalist who is the political editor of a conservative newspaper in a democracy that remained neutral throughout the war. He knows this country well from previous trips, and so his impressions during his present visit are not those of a casual tourist.
As he talked, politely but frankly, I had the impression of looking for a moment into a mirror that did not distort the image of America at this crossroads in history. It was not a flattering image.

—CLAMOR FOR DISARMAMENT—
First, my friend was astonished at the extent of the clamor to disarm America immediately by disbanding the armies of occupation. While he was too polite to put it in so many words, I could tell that this appeared to him as a new phase of America's old, backward-looking isolationism.
He had talked with several congressmen about the demand to "Bring the Boys Back Home." What they had said was rather dismaying, and particularly one congressman who had made this reply:
"Well, you must understand that this is a democracy. In a democracy we have to do whatever the people want. If they want to get American boys back home—and that's what every mail shows—then we've got to do it."

That did not jibe with my friend's concept of democracy. Weren't lawmakers, he inquired, under obligation to supply some leadership? Was there not some responsibility to educate the electorate?
On the domestic side, the visiting foreigner was troubled by signs that pressure groups were bent on tearing the country apart. He found a kind of bitterness that seemed alien to the America he had known.
On both sides of the industrial gulf was an attitude of do or die, all or nothing. He asked a conservative senator for his opinion on the 30 per cent wage demand being made by CIO unions.
"It is the beginning of the red revolution," the senator said with almost apologetic violence.

So violent was the tone of the reply that my friend at first thought he must have misunderstood. When he said he did not quite understand, the reply was rapped out with a sharp edge of anger.
—ATTACKS ON F.D.R.—
Another phenomenon disturbed this visitor who has always held America in high regard. That is the tone of the attacks on the late President Roosevelt and the members of his family. To one who has come to regard Roosevelt as a great national figure, looming large in the history of the world, they seemed scurrilous and shocking.
"At home," my friend said, "We have always thought of the New Deal as a very mild reformism. My paper is a conservative paper, I suppose one of the most conservative papers in Europe, but we never found very much to quarrel with in Roosevelt's program."

The picture this man will take back home with him is not a pretty one. It is of a nation frittering away its power and prestige in angry bickering and savage recrimination. It is of a powerful giant succumbing to the old familiar palsy of isolation and surely suspicion.
If that is the picture the world is to get, then we should not be surprised if our voice has less and less authority in world affairs. For it will become apparent that while we have the power to destroy, we do not have the power to create.

ambulo, "to go backwards and forwards; to walk; to amble." An ambulatory patient, then, is one who is able to walk about.
But what about the word "ambulance"? How can it suggest walking about? It came about thus:
The French adjective ambulans is descriptive of that which is capable of moving about from one place to another. The first vehicle used by the French army for caring for battle casualties was called "hospital ambulant," literally a traveling hospital.
Later, hospital ambulant was shortened to the noun form ambulance, "the state of being mobile," hence a mobile field hospital.
Ambulance passed into English and came to mean, "a vehicle for transporting the wounded, injured, or sick."
But the essence of the word ambulance is the Latin ambulo, "to amble," as it is in the preamble, literally "to walk before," perambulator, literally "one who walks through," somnambulist, "a sleep-walker," and, strangely enough, the word alley, from the French allee, "a going," hence, a narrow passage.
A commentator recently pronounced ambulatory as "am-BEW-luh-tree," apparently endeavoring to Briticize the word. But no Briton would be guilty of so unlovely a series of sounds. The accents should fall on the first and fourth syllables, thus: AM-bew-luh-TOE-ree.

My new pamphlet, DEBUNKING THE BROAD A, explodes the theory that such pronunciations as "ahsk, ahfter, chahnce, dahnce, rather," are either the sign of culture or are preferred by the dictionaries. For a free copy of this important monograph, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Frank Colby, in care of this paper.

The French adjective ambulans is descriptive of that which is capable of moving about from one place to another. The first vehicle used by the French army for caring for battle casualties was called "hospital ambulant," literally a traveling hospital.
Later, hospital ambulant was shortened to the noun form ambulance, "the state of being mobile," hence a mobile field hospital.
Ambulance passed into English and came to mean, "a vehicle for transporting the wounded, injured, or sick."
But the essence of the word ambulance is the Latin ambulo, "to amble," as it is in the preamble, literally "to walk before," perambulator, literally "one who walks through," somnambulist, "a sleep-walker," and, strangely enough, the word alley, from the French allee, "a going," hence, a narrow passage.
A commentator recently pronounced ambulatory as "am-BEW-luh-tree," apparently endeavoring to Briticize the word. But no Briton would be guilty of so unlovely a series of sounds. The accents should fall on the first and fourth syllables, thus: AM-bew-luh-TOE-ree.

Every Mother Goes Through This Worry Period

Good Morning!

By The Bugler

NO DIFFICULTY — Action of the Delta county board of supervisors in recommending Fayette as a site for a state park in Delta county may seem confusing, particularly since that action followed the appearance of Roy Overpack, Escanaba Chamber of Commerce secretary, before the board urging Pioneer Trail Park as a prospective state park.
There was no controversy on the subject, and none is expected, Dunathan principally because the state park commission will study the matter of a location thoroughly before any decision is made. The most the county board and the Chamber of Commerce can do is direct attention to the need for a park in the county.
Rivalry between one section of the county or another on the selection of a state park site would be detrimental, and might lead to a decision against establishment of a park in the county at all. The state has some 16 million dollars available for state park development. If Delta county wants a park it can suggest and recommend a location—but controversy and "pressuring" will work against the possibility of success.

HANDY GADGET — There's many a mystery story lurking behind the innocently worded advertisement. For instance, in an auction sale ad of the Alger county infirmary: "All Household Equipment, 2 washing machines tubs; 1 pair of handcuffs, etc." Come to think of it, a pair of handcuffs could be used to advantage in many households. And then there is the man advertising in the Press for a rifle which "Must look fair, but not necessarily shoot straight."

HE VISITED HERE — Oscar Carterud of 1228 Sheridan Road, Escanaba, has in his possession a letter he values most highly. It is a letter he received many years ago from the late Daniel Carter Beard, American naturalist, painter and author—and founder of the Boy Scouts of America. The letter is one of appreciation to Carterud for the fine time and the reception he enjoyed while on a visit to Escanaba.
Mr. Carterud has long been interested in Scouting, and himself became a Scout on Dec. 12, 1910, the same year that a Boy Scout program was started in Escanaba.
"There are only a few facts I am able to recall concerning the organization of the first Escanaba Scout troop," Mr. Carterud advised S. N. Bradford, district Scout executive. "To Rev. Frederick Spence, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, belongs the credit as the founder of the movement in our city. A Dr. Guild was appointed Scoutmaster, and Rev. Spence arrived as assistant Scoutmaster. Our patrol leaders were Adna Hoffman, Lee Hoffman and Eskil Ness. The troop consisted of about 50 boys."
Dan Beard, as he was affectionately known to millions of boys and men, was born in 1850 at Cincinnati, O., and died in 1940 at the age of 90.

THE HIGH COST — Earl Paquin, member of the Delta county board of supervisors from Escanaba township, spent his leisure time during recess periods of the board looking at booklets on water pumps.
"You know," he explained, "I need a water system at my shop at Carroll's Corners. I've figured out

Geneva—Great Britain, supported by the verdict of half a hundred nations in placing the war guilt in Italy-Ethiopian hostilities against Italy, began applying sanctions against Mussolini's government today.
Chicago—The argument as to who started Chicago's great fire in 1871 brought forth a denial of the popular O'Leary legend on the 64th anniversary of the conflagration. Simeon Steidl of Mattoon, Ill., who declared he lived just across the alley from Mrs. O'Leary as a child, said her cow's kick at the lantern had nothing to do with it. It was started, he said, by some young loafers who gathered in a barn to smoke cigarettes.
Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kenny, 714 Ludington street, are the parents of a daughter, born Thursday at St. Francis hospital. Mrs. Kenny is the former Marie Lucia, Escanaba school teacher.
Gladstone—Dr. and Mrs. O. S. Hult are leaving for Detroit, where Dr. Hult will attend the International Medical Congress.

20 Years Ago—1925
Henry Roberts Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Roberts of Flat Rock, will leave today for Paris, France, where he will continue his studies as an artist. During the past four years, he has been a student at the Fine Arts School in Detroit. He will remain in Paris about two years.
Thomas Tougiant of Schaffer has accepted a position at Iron Mountain.
Harry D. Brackett has returned from the north shore of Lake Superior, where he spent several days with Larry Buck, local lumberman.
Bob Beggs and Marvin Folio were among the high school fans who attended yesterday's game at Marquette.

Campbell Scott, president of the Technical Advisory Corporation of New York, will be the speaker at the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce forum dinner Thursday night. His subject will be "An Industrial Survey—The First Step in a Program of Industrial Development."
Manistique—Beagles owned by John N. Schuster won three second places in the field trials held at Bowler, Wis.
Gladstone—Mrs. I. N. Bushong was elected president of the Marquette district of Women's Missionary Societies at the annual meeting held at the Methodist church here.

that by the time I drill a well and buy a pressure pump it will cost about $500."
In town all he would have to do would be to connect to a city water main and pay an average annual bill of $16.77 to receive 78,087 gallons of water.

WHERE TO TURN?—Courtesy to the American flag requires that when the national anthem is played the spectators are supposed to turn and face the flag. Men in uniform salute. Civilians stand at attention.
At the recent Escanaba-Menominee football game the high school band played the national anthem. Spectators in the grandstand stood at attention, which faced them toward the large flag on a staff on the opposite side of the field. But on the field itself players and others stood with their backs to the flag. Only one person, Lt. Harry Monson of the U. S. Navy, was observed to turn and face the flag and salute. The players faced the band—but beyond the band was the grandstand, and atop it at each end were two smaller American flags. So perhaps they were conforming to flag etiquette rules.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington—The secret service has a harder time keeping pace with Harry Truman than any other President in years—especially when he's back in his home stamping grounds. Truman loves to mingle with friends, darts here and there in crowds, can't seem to get used to the fact that he's President... For 12 years, S. S. men got into the habit of standing around Roosevelt. He moved slowly and infrequently. They did the same. Now they have to jump... Old friends of Truman's sometimes resent secret service men getting in front of him when they approach. Two children who knew him started to greet the President in front of the Truman home some time ago, but the S. S. men brusquely planted themselves in their path... people in Independence, Mo., appreciate the way Mrs. Truman's daughter Margaret and the President himself have been home-folks with them, but they don't like the secret service.

All summer, newsmen have been trying to get photographs of the inside of the summer White House—without success. They have begged and implored Mrs. Truman to let them have some informal shots of herself inside the old family home. But Mrs. T. has been adamant... on one occasion, the President obligingly agreed to pose on the lawn with the members of his family. He and Margaret arrived and waited for Mrs. Truman. She didn't come. Finally the President went inside the house to get her. In a few minutes he came out without his wife... "We'll go ahead with the pictures now," he said quietly... There was no further comment. Obviously Mrs. Truman had refused to budge.

—PRESS-SHY MRS. TRUMAN—
Friends say that one reason for Mrs. Truman's press-shyness is an attempt to be the opposite of Mrs. Roosevelt. This is not because Mrs. T. is critical of Mrs. Roosevelt, but rather because she never was in the public eye, has spent all her life as a housewife and believes in continuing to do the same... Mrs. Truman feels that personal appearances are not down her alley and that she should stick to what she does naturally... Another factor may be that the summer White House belongs to Mrs. Truman's mother, Mrs. D. W. Wallace, and Mrs. Wallace is quite a dominant force in the Truman family... Mrs. Wallace believes that a home is a home. It is not a place to be photographed on the inside, it is a place to live in.
Mrs. Wallace, now in her eighties, has decided ideas on a lot of things, at one time including her son-in-law. Everybody in Independence knows that Harry Truman courted Bess Wallace for a long time and that the Wallace family didn't approve of him. They thought he would never amount to much. The Wallaces were elders in the Presbyterian church, and Harry was a Baptist. They were among the most solid citizens of Independence, and Harry had a very haphazard business career... so it was not until Harry came back from World War I at the age of 35 that the Wallace family consented to have their daughter, then about 33, marry the man who later became President.

—BATTLE OF THE PRESS—
Harry Truman's hospitality nearly precipitated a newspaper civil war when he visited Independence last month. Mayor Roger T. Sermon gave his usual stag poker party of old friends for the President, and Truman invited two newspapermen, Merriman Smith of the United Press and Ernest Vaccaro of the Associated Press. They, together with Bob Nixon of the International News Service (but who did not take the Independence trip) have travelled with Truman for about 20,000 miles, so he invited them to come to the party as off-the-record guests... Other newsmen were not invited. When Smith and Vaccaro returned, their colleagues asked where they had been. "Out with some girls," they replied, trying to protect Truman... Later, when the uninvited newsmen discovered where the AP and UP correspondents actually were, they nearly disrupted a party given by Editor Roy Roberts of the Kansas City Star.

—ARMY VS. NAVY—
Hugh Delacy, scrappy freshman representative from Seattle, asked the $64 question at a recent session of the naval affairs committee. "Admiral Denfeld," he asked the new chief of naval personnel, "in view of the fact that it was the navy and the marine corps who really did the major part of the fighting in the Pacific, don't you think it would have been proper to make a naval officer supreme commander in Japan?" Admiral Denfeld grinned but did not answer... although their children may like it, the parents of the Alexandria, Va., Sunday school class taught by Gen. Harry Vaughan, President Truman's military aide, are worried about the President's week-end trips. Vaughan always accompanies his boss, so the children miss a great many Sunday school lessons... members of the officers' club at Fort Meyer, Va., were upset because, when President Truman visited there recently, he didn't stop in the club-house. They had had all the slot machines removed in preparation for his visit... Comdr. Gene Tunney, former heavyweight champion, is planning to make a stab at the Connecticut senate seat now held by Adm. Tommy Hart, who was appointed to succeed the late Francis Maloney... Eric Johnston, who has taken over the movie job formerly held by Will Hays, is planning the construction of a huge motion picture industry building here in Washington. It would house offices of the picture companies, as well as work space for camera crews shooting Washington and facilities for theatermen, actors, studio workers and anyone else connected with the industry.

LEADERS OF WORLD WAR II
A 24-page booklet—LEADERS OF NATIONS AT WAR—background and character sketches of the leaders of the United States, Great Britain, Soviet Union, China, Germany, Italy, Japan and France—and a 4000-word account of AMERICAN WARS—from the Revolution to World War I inclusive, now available. To get both copies, send this clipping with 10 cents to cover postage and handling costs. Include name and address clearly written, and mail to Escanaba Daily Press Washington Service Bureau, 1217 Thirteenth St., Washington 5, D. C.
The question would be simplified if there was but one central flag, one direction to face—and everyone faced in that direction.
One of the Bugler's aides has also commented on the lack of a flag displayed at basketball games in Escanaba junior high school. The Star Spangled Banner is played, people stand—but there is no flag.

News From Men In The Service

Donald A. Maynard, M. M. 2/c, Nahma, Mich., of the Seabees branch of the navy is still stationed in Okinawa, arriving there in June. He is not home as was stated in a personal item last week.

Maynard

Excerpts from recent letters—Dear Dot and Kiddies: Well, we can tell where we are located. I know it will make you very happy to receive this news. It will take a lot of worry from your mind. "Somewhere on Okinawa."

It is very pretty in spots and is very ancient, in fact it goes back thousands of years and the customs also. The people are very dark and almost like the Japs, but smaller, a person of 25 looks about eighty years old. The reason is, they start to work in the fields at five and six years old. When you receive the photos I have taken you will understand. They are very honest and look on us as almost a lord of some sort and they act as though they don't care if we are here or not.

They bury their people in tombs sitting-up, then after three years a girl (she has to be a virgin) goes into a tomb and scrapes the flesh that is left on the bones and then the person's remains are put into a large container and made into ashes. Then the ashes are placed in a very large vase which is very beautiful, then the tombs are sealed and the girl allowed to marry in a very rich family. Will tell you more about it some day.

When we first landed here we were on "Bloody-nose Ridge" and partly on "Sugar-loaf Hill" where most of the bloody battles were fought. Maybe Pa read about them in the Press. We had to bury dead Japs and they sure were a mess. Also seal up tombs before we could set up our tents. I tell you the air-raids were sure a big thrill. So were the Jap planes being shot down by the army, navy and marines artillery fire.

We have been having so much rain. But no rain and all dust is just as bad. Well a little more about this Island. Where we are located now, one can see all over and we are on a large hill, overlooking two very large harbors. Talk about your ships, thousands of them. There were a lot of planes overhead when the peace terms were signed for the Runy-kyn Islands. This was where the decisive battle was fought for this group. That is why it was signed here.

I'm doing my washing tonight. (In a pail with a plunger.)

Well—it is still the same old story, even if the war is over, we are still working nine long hours. Have to build a good base you know. There won't be any next time as far as land war is concerned.

Gee, we got two cans of beer tonight. We get our rations now. Two cans at a time.

I saw where General Buckner and Ernie Pyle are buried. Plan on taking pictures of it later on so you folks can see the mammoth grave yards over here on this rock.

The nights are cool out here and the moonlight sure beautiful. So peaceful now. Not like when we first came in. We plan on moving again soon. The place we are going is on the same island only we will have floors in our tents and better view from the place we are in.

Well honey, I do hope another point system comes out soon. Maybe I will be home for Christmas. Enough for tonight.

May God bless you all at home. As ever, Don.

His first rating was awarded him at Faragut, on June 22 when he was promoted to H. A. 2/c. He received his promotion to H. A. 1/c Sept. 21.

Pfc. Gideon (Bud) Stegath who was supposed to sail on a recent trip of the Queen Mary to the states, on furlough, has informed his parents that the night before sailing his orders were changed and he is now stationed in Vienna, Austria.

Austin and William Stegath, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Gideon Stegath, are expected to arrive in Escanaba soon with honorable discharges from the Army.

Aboard the USS San Francisco—Ervin M. Domagalski, 18, seaman, second class, U. S. N. R., 1223 Sheridan road, Escanaba, serving on this flagship in Admiral Kinkaid's powerful 7th fleet, helped support the landings of American occupation troops in Korea and helped in the evacuation of prisoners of war from southern Korea.

The SAN FRANCISCO, heroine of the battle of Guadalcanal and holder of one of the great combat records for warships, stood off shore with her sister ships on the first day of the occupation, ready for any eventuality. On the second day of occupation, after safety was assured, the crews took sun baths, played volleyball, did calisthenics and participated in other recreational activities.

The San Francisco took part in 17 major actions from Pearl Harbor to Tokyo. She sank or helped sink nine Jap warships and shot down 13 planes. At Guadalcanal, she sustained 45 hits, 15 of major caliber, but remained aloft.

68 Delta County Potato
Growers To Compete
In Contest

Sixty-eight Delta county potato growers entered in the 1945 Escanaba Potato Boosters' association contest will exhibit their best tubers in the Delta county potato show scheduled to be held in Escanaba and Cornell Thursday afternoon and evening, Oct. 18.

Prize money to be presented by the Potato Boosters association will total nearly $600, and will be divided between growers of certified seed and tablestock potatoes in two separate contests. The awards and rules of the contest are similar to last year.

E. A. Wenner, county agricultural agent, yesterday said the growers in the contest will bring their potatoes to the race horse barn at the U. P. State Fair grounds in Escanaba prior to the show date. From the fair grounds the tubers will be trucked to Escanaba and set up in the Salvation Army building in the 600 block, Ludington. The public is invited to view the exhibits and watch the judges in their work.

County potato growers will gather at the court house to hear Dr. L. C. Knorr, Michigan State College, talk on methods of controlling ring rot of potato. Ernest Wheeler of the college's potato department, will judge the exhibits and will also speak to the growers. Wenner said it is hoped also to have a speaker on federal and state grading procedure.

The evening program will be presented at Cornell township hall, where there will be presentation of the young woman selected to reign as Delta county potato show queen.

The names of four young women have been submitted from four townships as their competitors for the title of county potato queen. They are Miss Monica Jodocy, Maple Ridge township; Miss Colleen Rappette, Escanaba township; Miss Louise Heynnessen, Baldwin township; Miss Mary Terrien of Cornell township.

Other townships have yet to report on the names of their entries in the queen contest. Winner of the county contest will have an opportunity to compete for the title of Upper Peninsula queen at the U. P. Potato Show at Menominee Oct. 23-25.

The Delta county queen contest committee is composed of Mrs. J. H. Jackson, Mrs. H. H. Bathke and James Frenn of Escanaba.

Carbon Dioxide Is Tested For Polio

New Orleans, La.—A new treatment for infantile paralysis is being tried at Charity Hospital here. The treatment consists essentially in putting the small patients in an oxygen tent where they inhale 5 per cent carbon dioxide in oxygen.

Good results in all but one of 13 cases are reported in a preliminary announcement made to this newspaper's Science Service by Dr. Branch J. Aymond, of the Louisiana State Board of Health, Dr. Ralph V. Platou, professor of pediatrics at Tulane University School of Medicine, and Dr. G. Peyton Kelly, also of Tulane.

The treatment was first tried as an emergency measure for a six-year-old girl with acute encephalitis, bulbar and spinal poliomyelitis. Dramatic improvement followed the inhalations of carbon dioxide in oxygen.

"The response was so impressive that this simple and apparently harmless procedure was employed in 12 other cases having varying manifestations," the doctors report.

Oct. 15 Deadline For Tax Payment

Escanaba city taxpayers yesterday were reminded by City Treasurer A. J. Manley that Oct. 15 is the final date for the payment of city taxes without penalty. After that date a four per cent penalty fee will be assessed.

QUITS USING HARSH LAXATIVES

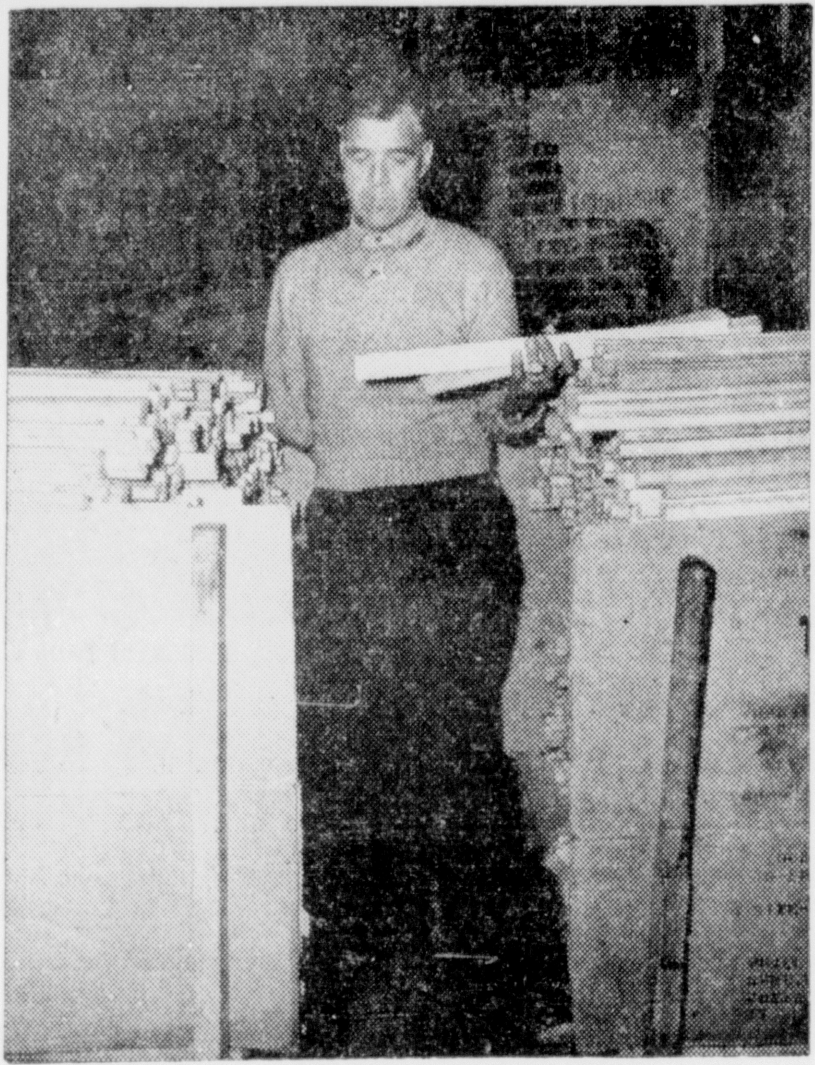

Famous Cereal
helps ex-constipation sufferer

Are medicinal laxatives too harsh for your system? Then read this unsolicited letter:

"I am a retired Mail Carrier and since I quit pounding the sidewalks I haven't had the exercise and I found it necessary to take medicinal laxatives until I discovered ALL-BRAN. I really think that medicinal laxatives are a little harsh when a person gets along in years. I am 65." James J. Walker, 612 8th Street South, Minneapolis 4, Minn.

You, too, may never have to take another pill or purgative—if your trouble is constipation due to lack of bulk. Eat a dish of KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN every day, and drink plenty of water. If not satisfied, send the empty carton to Kellogg's of Battle Creek. You will receive double the money you paid for it. ALL-BRAN is not a purgative. It's a wholesome, naturally regulating cereal made from the vital outer layers of wheat. Provides gentle-acting bulk, helpful to normal laxation.

Get ALL-BRAN at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg's of Battle Creek and Omaha.

Car Leaps Open Span On Bridge

Marinette, Wis.—Momentum, attributed to a high rate of speed, probably saved the life of Laurie Bystrom, 37, of 542 Elizabeth avenue, Saturday when his car hurdled the 50 foot opening at the drawbridge and crashed into the piling beneath the open draw. A broken nose was the extent of his injuries.

The Marinette span of the bridge was open to permit passage of the boat of Dr. J. L. Jorgenson, 1554 Main street, at 4:45 p. m. Bystrom approached from Menominee at a high rate of speed, crashed through the chain blocking off the Menominee side and went off the end of the Menominee draw and into the piling of the Marinette draw. If the piling had not broken in the impact, the car would have rebounded into 22 feet of water.

Bystrom was removed from the vehicle by Frank Surk, 706 Spies avenue, Menominee, and Charles Van Calligan, 1425 Tenth street, in a row boat. Franklin Edwin, an orderly at Marinette General hospital, was at the scene when the crash occurred and took Bystrom to the hospital.

Lansing—Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler has issued vouchers for the annual payment of $200,000 to counties in Michigan having 60 or more inches of snowfall last winter, as provided for in Act 1 of the special session of 1937.

Houghton and Chippewa counties, followed closely by Marquette were the heavy snowfall counties last winter.

in gas tax money annually turned over to the counties and cities of the state for use on local roads and streets.

Following are the amounts of snow removal funds the counties will receive:

Cpl. Robert Martin Receives Citation

Cpl. Robert R. Martin, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Martin, Rapid River, was recently cited for excellent service as a gunner in a machine gun section of a Marine rifle company in action against the enemy on Iwo Jima, Volcano islands, from Feb. 19 to March 16, 1945.

Cpl. Martin assumed duties of squad leader on March 2 when his squad leader assumed other duties due to casualties. During early morning hours of darkness on March 4, he sighted an enemy movement close to the front lines. He demonstrated exceptional courage and initiative by rapidly displacing his gun to an exposed position from where he could bring a maximum of the enemy group under fire. After holding his fire until the most advantageous moment, he opened fire, killing four enemy and eliminating further harassment from the remainder of the group.

His conduct throughout was in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service, according to the citation, signed by C. B. Cates, Major General, U. S. Marine Corps, commanding Fourth Marine division.

Pfc. Martin also received the Purple Heart on Iwo Jima and Presidential unit citation on Saipan. He is expected to return home to Rapid River soon. He has been in the service 34 months.

Ruth E. Carlson And Robt. Romin Wed In Chicago

Ruth E. Carlson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Carlson, 710 N. Long avenue, Chicago, and Robert A. Romin, formerly of Escanaba, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Romin, 1653 N. Lockwood avenue, Chicago, were married October 6 in a beautiful ceremony at the Austin Salvation Army Temple, Chicago, at 8 p. m. Brigadier Henry R. Rostett, divisional officer of the Salvation Army headquarters, performed the ceremony.

Miss Wannie Nelson played Lohengren's Wedding March while the girls of the wedding party came down the center aisle and were met by the ushers and best man at the altar.

Elmer Witthoff played a musical background of soft music on his vibraphone during the entire ceremony. Captain George Beckstrom, corps commander at Escanaba, sang "I Love You Truly." The only lighting during the ceremony was that of the candles from the candelabras and candles in the window sills.

The altar was decorated with ferns, palms and yellow and white mums. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Carl Carlson.

The matron of honor was Dorothy Larson, sister of the bride, and bridesmaids were Lillian Olson, cousin of the bride, and Ethel Romin, sister of the groom.

The best man was Alvin Romin, Jr., twin brother of the groom, and ushers were Edward Gaston and Bruno Karkula, the latter an uncle of the groom.

The flower girl was Marilyn Anderson, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Milton Anderson, former Salvation Army workers in Escanaba. She wore a blue floor-length dress and carried a white basket of yellow mums.

The bride was lovely in a satin brocade gown with fingertip veil of tulle, with long sleeves that came to a point at the wrists. Her bouquet was of white baby mums, with an orchid in the center. Her headpiece was studded with pearls and she wore a string of pearls, which was a gift from the bridegroom.

The matron of honor was gowned in blue marquette, with a headpiece of pink roses over which was a shoulder length blusher veil. She carried yellow baby mums and yellow streamers tied with tiny ferns.

The bridesmaids wore pink marquette gowns with pink roses as a headpiece, with shoulder length blusher veils. They carried baby blue mums with ribbon streamers, also tied with tiny ferns.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Carlson wore a navy blue dress with a corsage of white baby mums and tea roses. Mrs. Romin wore a black dress with a corsage of white baby mums and tea roses.

Following the wedding, a reception was held for 250 guests in the lower auditorium of the temple. The bridal party and the young couple's families and close friends joined at a special table over which hung a canopy of peach and white crepe paper streamers. The table was decorated with three miniature dolls, a bride and two bridesmaids gowned in colors which corresponded to those worn at the ceremony by the bride and her attendants.

Also on the table was a crystal glass candelabra, the lighted candles of which threw rays of light on the huge wedding cake in the center of the table. Major Fritz Nelson, former Salvation Army officer at Escanaba, was master of ceremonies during the reception.

After the reception the couple left on a wedding trip to an unannounced destination. For going away, the bride chose a cocoa brown suit, with white blouse, and brown accessories. Upon their return from the wedding trip, the couple will make their home temporarily with the bride's parents.

The bride, who is employed at the Henry Holtz Publishing company in Chicago, was graduated from Austin high school, Chicago, in 1942. The bridegroom, a graduate of the Escanaba high school, class of 1943, is employed at Quality Hardware Machine Corp., Chicago, as an apprentice tool and die maker.

Out of town guests at the wedding were Mrs. Charles R. Larson, Escanaba; Miss Doris Cole, Gladstone; Mr. and Mrs. Gust Weden, St. Charles, Ill.; Major and Mrs. Fred Rankin, Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hurtig and family and Mr. and Mrs. Eric Hurtig and family of River Grove, Ill.

TWO CARS ARE BADLY WRECKED

Crashup Occurs On US-2 West Of Town
Tuesday Night

Charles Adams, of East Palestine, Ohio, is in the local hospital suffering from bruises and lacerations as a result of a motor accident on Highway No. 2, about ten miles west of the city Tuesday night in which two cars were badly wrecked.

According to a version of the mishap given the police, Bernal Hemley, of Toronto, Ontario, was driving west at a leisurely pace when the rear of his car was hit by a car driven by Adams, also heading west, who admits that he was hitting about 60 miles per hour. The impact caused the Hemley car to get out of control and it left the road and rolled over.

The Hemley car was badly wrecked and the Adams car, while out of commission, was not quite as badly smashed. Hemley, however, escaped injury while Adams was badly bruised, although his injuries are not regarded as serious.

Adams states that he did not see the car until he was upon it. Police are investigating the case and intimate that reckless driving charges may be filed against the Ohio man.

KC LODGE TO AID USO DRIVE

Will Donate Proceeds
Of Party To War Fund
And Chest Drive

The Knights of Columbus is starting the Schoolcraft County Victory War Fund and Community Chest Drive Monday, October 15, with a public party at their hall that evening.

The proceeds of this meeting will be donated to the Schoolcraft County Victory War Fund and Community Chest.

"This is a fine gesture on the part of the Knights of Columbus and we hope it will be an inspiration to several other organizations to follow suit by giving benefits for this cause," says Clarence Coleman, general chairman of the local fund drive.

The USO is comprised of all denominations—Jewish, Protestant and Catholic. Mr. Cowman explains, and all these groups which formerly conducted their activities separately, have now combined their efforts in the Victory War Fund and Community Chest.

The total amount to be raised by Schoolcraft county is $8,736 of which 50 per cent stays in the county. The Boy Scout budget is $1,500, Girl Scouts $1,200, and the Manistique Youth Council $2,000. All these are worthwhile causes, demanding the support of every citizen. We cannot, however, expect the rural communities to respond to the support of the Youth Council and Boy and Girl Scouts, for they do not have any direct benefit. The word has been passed around the rural communities that they may earmark their donations to the USO and then their money will be allocated to that organization specifically.

The wonderful cooperation of the Knights of Columbus in giving of the drive, is sincerely appreciated by all who are working toward a successful campaign in Schoolcraft county. It is hoped there will be a fine attendance at the party which begins at 8:30 p. m.

AID FOR VETS

Escanaba Man Pleads For Full Time Office Of Vet Affairs

Establishment of a locally maintained and operated agency—staffed by a competent personnel that can devote full time to the effort—having for its purpose the assistance of the newly discharged veteran with his problems, or, in the case of the deceased veteran, his dependents, may receive prompt and competent advice and assistance in taking advantage of state and national legislation designed for his assistance.

Too many discharged veterans from Manistique, he said, are calling at the Escanaba office for assistance in settlement of their vet affairs. These veterans, he said, are always welcome there and the agency is glad to be of assistance at any time, but this service should be available to them in their home county, he asserted. Insisting that this was not meant as a criticism of Fred H. Hahne, vet counselor for Schoolcraft county, he explained that it would be too much to expect Mr. Hahne to be on hand at all times and slight his own business affairs.

Giving due credit to the good work performed by the Legion, the VFW and other organizations dedicated to the welfare and advancement of the veterans, Mr. Cleary pleaded for a center where the vet may call at his convenience, where he may be assured a personal review of his problems and where he need have no fear of being "given the run-around."

Eight different local agencies, he said, launched the Veteran Affairs office in Escanaba. Assistance in financing it has been given by the county board of supervisors and the state office of veterans affairs. Local financial assistance, he added, is necessary for the time being, he said, but in time as vet affairs enlarge in scope, it may be expected that the state will handle the setup.

State legislation provides an expense paid course fitting advisors and secretaries of vet affairs offices for their tasks.

He said that it was particularly important that a secretary, to handle complicated correspondence and intricate government forms, be available whenever the returning veteran needs such service.

He stated that he is serving at the Escanaba vets office without remuneration, and that a paid consultant will succeed him in a few weeks. He will remain on the staff as counselor, however.

Movies showing the state setup with reference to veteran affairs, was presented previous to Mr. Cleary's talk. Mauritz Carlson presided at the meeting.

TELLS HOW TO PREVENT FIRE

Fire Chief Wm. Marshall
Offers Timely
Hints

In keeping with the annual observance of Fire Prevention Week, Fire Chief William Marshall yesterday called on Gladstone residents to do their part in preventing costly conflagrations.

The chief said that inspection of public buildings including schools will be made and fire drills held during the week.

He also suggested that persons give their heating plants a thorough check up and cleaning, and see that chimneys and flues are cleaned before the winter season sets in.

He also suggested that basements and attics be checked for rubbish and that when hot ashes are dumped care should be exercised to see that the coals and ashes are not dumped against anything inflammable.

Property destruction in Michigan in 1944 from fire was valued at more than $19,000,000. This was some $4,000,000 greater than the preceding year. Persons losing their lives in fires were 197, 65 more than the previous year.

Most of the deaths were the result of home fires and many of the victims were little children. The property loss ran over the average percentage of increase.

It is pointed out that in Michigan the human and material loss from fire is traceable in appalling proportion to carelessness, ignorance or indifference.

World Championship Comes To Detroit; Cubs Fold Up In Finale, 9-3

NEW RECORDS SET IN SERIES

All-Time Mark Broken
By Newhouse With
22 Strikeouts

BY GAYLE TALBOT
Chicago, Oct. 10 (AP)—Finishing like true champions, the Detroit Tigers slammed Hank Borowy from the mound before he could retire a batter in the seventh and deciding game of the 1945 World Series at Wrigley Field today to win from the Chicago Cubs, as they pleased, 9 to 3, behind Hal Newhouse's magnificent pitching.

Newhouse, chalking up his second victory of the record-breaking playoffs, fanned 10 batters and broke an all-time World Series mark for seven games by running his total of strikeouts in the series to 22 against the previous best of 20 held by three other flingers.

Richards Shares Honors
Although the Cubs got to the tall left-hander for 10 hits, one more than the triumphant Tigers could manage off six assorted Chicago throwers, Newhouse stifled them in the clutch with his sweeping curve and fast ball and never permitted them to get in the ball game.

In fighting through to their first world title in 10 years the Tigers supplied a sad ending to Borowy's heroic efforts to pitch the Cubs to what would have been their maiden victory in the classic since 1908.

Sharing honors with Newhouse and helping him chill the hopes of 41,500 fans packed in the park was his battery mate, skinny Paul Richards of Waxahatchie, Texas, who drove across three runs with a mighty double in the champions' big five-run first inning and hammered another in with a two-bagger in the seventh.

Even the Cubs' fans gave the veteran a sympathetic cheer when he was forced to leave the game in the eighth inning after a foul tip broke the little finger on his right hand.

Blasting Starts Early
The final game lacked any of the thrills of Monday's terrific 12-inning struggle, in which the Cubs fought back to deadlock the series at three wins apiece. The Tigers were dominant from the moment that Skeeter Webb, their lead-off man and Manager Steve O'Neill's favorite son-in-law, drove a single to right in the first inning until Newhouse throttled the last Chicago gasp in the ninth.

Eddie Mayo followed Webb with a single into the same field, and when Doc Cramer dropped a single into left to score Webb with none out, Manager Charlie Grimm realized that he had called upon Borowy for a little more than the human frame would stand and brought in the veteran Paul Derringer from the bullpen.

Hank Greenberg, first batter to face Derringer, sacrificed the runners along, and then Roy Cullenbine was passed purposely, filling the bases. When Rudy York popped to Stan Hack it looked like the Cubs might escape serious damage, but it was not to be. Jimmy Outlaw worked Derringer for a walk, forcing Mayo across and leaving the sacks loaded, and Richards came through with a tremendous clout into the left field corner to bring everybody home.

Cavarretta Leading Hitter
Newhouse, ninth Detroit to bat, finally ended the shambles with an infield out, but by that time the game was wrapped up and it didn't matter.

The Cubs got the first of their three hits in their half of the first on Don Johnson's double and Phil Cavarretta's single, but the Tigers came right back to match it in the second.

Cramer, an old-timer who had said frankly before the series that he was playing his last year of baseball, and Phil Cavarretta, Cubs' heavy hitting first sacker, banged out three hits each during the final game to run their total safeties to 11 for the play-off, the same number delivered by Stan Hack, veteran Chicago third baseman. Cavarretta was the leading hitter of the series with .423, the classic's only .400 hitter.

Hack began today's game needing only one hit to tie the all-time record of 12 hits in a series held jointly by Pepper Martin and Sam Rice, but in five attempts to solve Newhouse's slants he got only one ball out of the infield.

Greenberg Has Reverses
Derringer was derided after his walking spree in the second and for the next three and one-third innings Hy Vandenberg pitched excellent ball, allowing the Tigers only one hit and whiffing three men before he gave way to a pinchhitter in the Cubs' fifth.

Chicago reduced its deficit to 6-2 with a run in the fourth on Cavarretta's single through the box and Andy Pafko's triple over Cramer's head in centerfield.

The Tigers made it 7-2 in the seventh off Paul Erickson, fourth Cubs' hit, when Cullenbine drew a walk and scored all the way from first on Richards' clout to the wall in right. They made it 9-2 in the eighth when Claude Passeau yielded a walk, Eddie Mayo doubled and Hank Greenberg produced a long fly to left on which Mayo scored.

Greenberg, around whom the big argument swirled after Monday's game, could contribute no more than a sacrifice and a couple of walks to the final victory. It was learned that he had injured his right wrist late in the Monday conflict and there was some doubt right up to game time that he would start today. Luckily, he had little to do, and he retired for Ed Mierkiewicz in the last inning.

Pafko Downed Swinging
Newhouse's record-tying 20th strikeout and his 21st, the record-breaker for a seven-game series, helped pull him out of a mild jam in the eighth, when the Bruins scored their final run. With one down, Lowrey and Cavarretta banged successive singles to bring the great crowd hopefully to its feet.

That was where the Tigers' southpaw got No. 20, Andy Pafko going down swinging at a third strike. Bill Nicholson next jolted Hal with a double on which Lowrey counted, but Newhouse hitched up his britches and whiffed Mickey Livingston with a sweeping curve.

The final strikeout victim was Clyde McCullough, the Cubs' catcher who recently returned from the service and was stuck in to hit for Hank Wyse, sixth Chicago pitcher. With Ed Hughes on base by virtue of a single, McCullough took three mighty swipes at the ball and sat down.

It was a record-breaking series from away back, not the least impressive being that a total of 333,457 persons paid their way into the seven games, compared to the previous high of 328,051 who saw the Yankee-Cardinal play-off in 1926. Total gate receipts soared over the $1,500,000 mark, another record.

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

The World Series is over and baseball has bowed out of the national sports scene for 1945. As these words are written, the new world's champions are still unknown. The baseball season of this year has been unique in many ways. Perhaps the most surprising development was the fact that big league baseball was able to survive at all against the pressures exerted in the final year of the war. When the season opened in April the odds were heavy that the big leagues would have to fold up enroute. There was the pressure of the draft on ball players and, even more important, there was the ever-increasing strain on transportation facilities.

Baseball did survive the war, however, and in so doing, carved a firmer niche in the hearts of all Americans. The major leagues sought no special privileges. They met each problem sensibly and always in the best public interest. They contributed heavily to the war relief programs. They were rewarded in turn with the best overall attendance record in the history of baseball. This fact conclusively demonstrated the public's approval of baseball's leadership during the trying period of the war. Now all this is behind them and organized baseball is headed for a golden era of post-war development. It has truly earned its recognition as the national pastime.

The western division championship of the National Pro football league may be decided in Green Bay Sunday when the Packers tackle the Cleveland Rams, the most improved club of the pro circuit. The Rams are sparked by Bob Waterfield, of California, a hard running back, and two clever ends, Jim Benton and Steve Prikro, all of whom played major roles in the Cleveland conquest of the Chicago Bears last Sunday. George Traflet, Packer line coach of 1944, is line coach of the Rams this season. The game probably will be viewed by the second capacity crowd of the season at City stadium in Green Bay.

Incidentally, the Packers have lost to Cleveland only once in the 15-game series to date. That was in 1929 when the Rams won a 27-14 decision. There was one tie game, 13-13, played in 1940. Most of the 12 Packer victories have been rather decisive. The Packers won a pair from Cleveland last year, 30 to 21, and 42 to 7. But the Rams are on the march this year and are threatening their first pro league championship. The game shapes up as even more thrilling than the Packers' battle with the Bears two weeks ago.

Hit and Miss—Bob Bowers, former Eskymo athlete, now a Navy trainee at Columbia, is playing a line position with the Columbia football team this fall. A radio announcer trying to inform his listeners where Bowers hails from stumbled several times trying to pronounce Escanaba. Then finally gave up. Sports equipment, including golf balls, are coming back on the market in greater volume now and it appears that this wartime headache finally has ended.

At least four of the victorious Tigers will make Detroit their winter residence. Including Hal Newhouse, Diz Trout, Roy Cullenbine and Bob Swift. Paul Richards, Detroit's solemn, string-bean catch who capped the Tigers' opening inning rally with a three-run double, will take over his job as sports writer and advertising solicitor for the Waxahatchie, Tex., Light.

Dizzy Dean, who last was on the same field with the Tigers back in 1934, when brother Daffy and he won four St. Louis victories over Detroit, barged into the Bengal dug-out to pose for pictures with namesake Dizzy Trout. Only Greenberg, Bridges and York were back from that hectic seven-game series in which, Dean recounted with a grin, Greenberg was "just a loud out to me."

MATHERS PLAY AT MANISTIQUE

Munising—The Mather high school football squad will go to Manistique Saturday minus two of their regular linemen who will be ineligible due to scholastic difficulties. The two boys, Knowles and LeVeque (who kicked the extra point Saturday against Stephenson) will be replaced by Laurich and Morrison. Manistique, having troubles this year winning games, should be an even match for Munising, both having won only one game.

Munising showed a lot of improvement last week in the blocking and ball carrying departments. The two scoring plays against Stephenson last week will always be remembered, especially by Coach Brunelle who howled long and loud that both of the plays with the end playing wide next to the sidelines were illegal. On the first scoring play LeVeque fooled everyone by going over to the sidelines just as time was being called and remained there standing up until time was resumed. Then on the first play after the time out he had a clear field as not even a Stephenson player has seen LeVeque during all of the time out. On the second touchdown when Morrison put Stephenson in the hole by catching from Beattie and going to the nine yard line, Brunelle contended to the officials that he was not on the line of scrimmage. Just what the protest to be entered by Stephenson on the two plays will amount to after the officials called both plays legal will be watched closely by Munising fans.

The championship trophy will be presented to Ray Johnson, manager of Dagenais, by Leo Lancour, manager of White Birch. Following the speaking program there will be the annual business meeting, including the reading of reports and the election of officers for the ensuing year.

Representatives of the various teams will be called upon for brief remarks. They include Earl Haddy of the V-8's; Sparky Johnson of LeJeune's; Toodles Plath, Silver Front; Ray Morin, Birds Eye; Bill Doucette, Dagenais; Bab Marengier, White Birch; Rev. Schabow, Larmay's; John LaFave, Peoples Hotel; and Ken Legula, St. Ann CVO. Board of control members, Cliff Beaudin, Fred LaChapelle and Claude Fisher also will speak briefly.

The season for fox and gray squirrel, and cotton tail rabbit, snowshoe hare and woodchuck opens next Monday. The squirrel season ends Nov. 5 but rabbits may be hunted until Jan. 31 in the upper part of the Lower Peninsula and until Dec. 31 in the lower districts.

The open season of ruffed grouse and partridge continues until Nov. 5 in all parts of the Lower Peninsula while prairie chicken and sharpshinned grouse may be hunted until Nov. 5 north of the Muskegon-Bay City line.

Newark On Ropes In Little Series

Newark, N. J., Oct. 10 (AP)—Nemo Liebold's Louisville Colonels left the Newark Bears hanging on the ropes tonight, losers of three straight Little World Series tilts and faced with an early elimination, by rapping Frank Hiller and Jack Farmer for 13 hits and an 8-3 decision.

With the little classic adjourning for one day to permit the clubs time for travel to the Kentucky city, the Colonels need only one more triumph to cop the title.

Vulture Fat Claimed As Rheumatism Cure

Jerusalem (AP)—Hot vulture fat is claimed as a rheumatism cure by some Transjordan and Palestine country people, who say that if the bird is not too old and tough it makes a delicious meal.

It takes dealers charge $10 a bird in Transjordan, and more in Palestine, but as vultures are protected by game laws, vulture trade is something of a black market.

Two cases of successful blizz cures of rheumatism with vulture fat have been claimed recently. One of the claimers, Mohammed Yousef, an Arab messenger employed at the British Council, was in such acute pain that he was

Count Evened, But It Took Tigers 37 Years To Do It

BY JERRY LISKA

Chicago, Oct. 10 (AP)—It took 37 years to do it, but the Detroit Tigers finally evened the World Series count with the Chicago Cubs by their 9-3 walk-away clincher today.

As a matter of fact, the only two victories in baseball's 42-year-old classic for either club have come at the other's expense—only in the case of Charley Grimm's grizzlies, it's ancient history.

Today's triumph and their 1935 conquest gave the Bengals modern day revenge for their 1907 and 1908 series defeats by Frank Chance's Bruins.

It was the eighth straight series humiliation for the Cubs, who last were blanked by the New York Yankees in 1938. The Tigers suffered their fifth and last series defeat in a seven-game waltz with the Cincinnati Reds in 1940.

Manager Charley Grimm of the Cubs will leave for his Missouri Farm Friday to "chop wood," as he says, on his 116 acre diggings for the winter. . . . Manager Steve O'Neill of the Tigers will hie to his Cleveland home after some speech-making at a Detroit chamber of commerce victory banquet tomorrow night.

The whole Tiger squad departed for Detroit on a victory special train tonight. Usually some players depart directly for their homes after a World Series, but the Bengals, to a man, are committed to appear at a civic celebration in the motor city tomorrow night. After that, nimrod-minded Tigers will join about 15 Cubs for an exhibition game and some pheasant shooting at Huron, S. D., this weekend.

At least four of the victorious Tigers will make Detroit their winter residence. Including Hal Newhouse, Diz Trout, Roy Cullenbine and Bob Swift. Paul Richards, Detroit's solemn, string-bean catch who capped the Tigers' opening inning rally with a three-run double, will take over his job as sports writer and advertising solicitor for the Waxahatchie, Tex., Light.

Mrs. Andrew Ferrari Gets Letter From Relative In France

Mrs. Andrew Ferrari, 328 South 15th street, has received a letter for the first time in several years from her sister, Mrs. Martin Starck, living in Base Yutz, Theonville, Lorraine, France. The letter relates some of the harrowing experiences suffered by the people residing in that section of France.

It reads as follows: "Dear Sister—We all were very happy when we received your letter. We are glad to know you are all still alive. Dad died in September, 1940 in Metz. We all had to leave home on the 20th of August, 1940. When we returned Day was still alive. After I got back I visited him four times. He is buried in Metz. He had a very nice service. He couldn't talk or work or see any more. When he saw how we all had to leave it broke his heart. He wanted to talk so bad but couldn't. We all are thankful that he did not have to go through what we went through.

Rosalin is still in Gargarten. Her two boys had to go in the German army. They are back now. Irene's husband is supposed to be a prisoner in Russia. In February 1944 they took our brother Lucien in a concentration camp with his son Robert. They put Robert in the German army. Two months ago Lucien came back. He is on old man and sick. In the beginning all he did was cry and eat. The doctor said he had no vitamins in his bones. He took terrible beatings. Once he was 22 days unconscious. The last six weeks before the Americans got here they took all their clothes away from them. Thousands of people had to run around day and night without clothes. Before the Americans got here we got nothing to eat. We haven't much to eat yet except special fats, butter and milk. Clothes we don't get now.

Lucien was in the French army. About a week ago he got back. On the 30th of August 1944 I went to Dieuze to get a few things to eat. The next day all the trains were stopped. There I was with hardly no clothes. Martin home sick. I had to stay six months; no news from Martin. I thought sure I would go crazy. On the 11th of September the Americans arrived in Theonville, not in Basse Jutz.

We got four grenades in our house. Martin and Eli sat in the cellar in the back part. They hit the front part, thank God. One grenade went through the kitchen and destroyed everything in the next room. All the walls were destroyed and ceilings damaged. Only one room we had to sleep in. Dishes, clothes, linen and everything is destroyed. The third one landed also downstairs and finished everything. The fourth one damaged the roof. We were driven out of our homes at 10 o'clock one night. Martin sick, and I had to work until two in the morning when someone gave them shelter. This all happened on the evening of his 64th birthday. On the 23rd of December they returned to their home hoping to find me there. I couldn't get any papers to get back.

For 14 days we were among terrible fighting. I can't see yet how we got out of it at all. Whole towns burned down. In Bernerling there were only five houses that weren't damaged. All the rest of them were, some slightly, some a lot. Cattle and everything burned down. Anna's house was bombed in 1940. They had the house built over. When the Americans started to bomb, they lost their house again. They live in the back part of it. The railroad station is also completely gone. All we are thankful for is that we have our brother back. There are 1000 of them who will never return. Aunt Rosalie died in 1943. Lusan's husband also died. The winter is coming, no clothes and little coal."

Miss LaChapelle joined the WAVES on Dec. 1, 1944. She received her training at Bronx, N. Y., and Bethesda, Md.

Arnold Brannstrom Released From Army

T/Sgt. Arnold Brannstrom, who was liberated from a German prison camp in May, 1945, has returned to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brannstrom, Ensign, having received his honorable discharge after four and a half years of service. He was mustered out at Camp McCoy, Wis., last Tuesday.

Sgt. Brannstrom entered the service April 4, 1941. After training at Camp Davis, N. C., he was transferred to Pearl Harbor, arriving about a week after the Japanese sneak attack. He served in Hawaii for 11 months, and returned to this country for additional training. He went to England in November, 1944, and then to France on Dec. 5, arriving in Germany just four days before the Nazis staged their counter-offensive, in which he was taken prisoner.

PLANS TO DIVE ONE MILE DOWN

Underseas Explorer Now In Bermuda Making Initial Tests

Hamilton, Bermuda—Exploring the sea bottom one mile straight down, in a massively constructed sphere equipped with wheels, is the ambition of Otis Barton, underseas explorer, now in Bermuda to make preliminary arrangements. He hopes to be able to make his preliminary dives by the summer of 1947.

Record for human descent into the ocean is at present held by Dr. William Beebe of the New York Zoological Society, who in 1934 descended in his bathysphere to a depth of 3,028 feet, or about three-fifths of a mile. The reel which Dr. Beebe used is still here, and Mr. Barton is arranging for its use.

There is a difference in purpose

In 1678 the aggregate value of all the estates in New York province was $750,000 and a planter with $1,500 or a merchant with $3,000 was accounted a rich man.

between Dr. Beebe's bathysphere and Mr. Barton's apparatus, which he calls a benthoscope. The former was used in studying free-swimming creatures in the water at great depths; the latter is intended for work among the fantastic animals that crawl on the ocean bottom, or are even grown fast to it, like plants. Hence the wheels on Mr. Barton's submarine vehicle. It will not attempt movement under its own power, but will be towed by a cable from a ship on the surface.

Mr. Barton had a project for the construction and use of a benthoscope on foot just before the war, and had to suspend action on it until the close of hostilities.

Dr. Beebe, who is also in Bermuda at present, is collecting apparatus which he intends to use in shallow-water undersea exploration off the coast of Venezuela.

"I am going to put the post office on wheels"
George B. Armstrong

Yesterday and Tomorrow
A Story of Transportation
First

It was 1864. George B. Armstrong of the U. S. Mail Service, with visions of a "postal car" before him, discussed his plan with officials of the "North Western." These far-seeing men saw its possibilities, and on August 28th, 81 years ago, a rebuilt baggage car made the initial "post office" run between Chicago and Clinton, Iowa.

expressly for this purpose. The novelty of the railway mail car has gone but its utility lives on. A traveling post office, speeding through the night with thousands of pieces of mail matter to be sorted and ready for distribution in far distant communities, still is a vital link in Uncle Sam's mail service.

The postal car quickly proved its value. Three years later "North Western" designed five cars for railway post office service, the first in America built Armstrong, the Father of the Railway Post Office, performed an outstanding service—"North Western" is proud of its part in making his dream come true.

Since the days of the Old "Pioneer," in 1848, "North Western" has kept pace with the needs of the communities it serves. Our constant aim is to serve our customers better. We thank all of you, travelers and shippers, for your patience during the war years and assure you that in the future as in the past "North Western" will continue to offer you the finest in transportation service.
